“What a great evening of music, food and fun! The Canadian College of Performing Arts is a melting pot for all that is right in the world in its nurturing and celebration of the arts. I felt privileged to hear some amazing talent on this evening. It both inspired me and reassured me that the new generation of music makers are well on their way to making their mark in the world, and it is all happening right in my home town of Victoria! I went home that night feeling very proud! Congrats to everyone involved for an unforgettable night!”
